

The no-call list law should be left as it is. In fact, to improve it include the charities.